

The Wichita Eagle.

WICHITA, THURSDAY, SEPT. 12, 1872.
CITY AND COUNTY NEWS.

The frame for Charles Marshall's residence is up.

Judge Campbell's court is in full blast in Wichita.

The editor of the EAGLE has gone to the state fair.

Two trains of stock cars leave the Wichita yards daily.

Oldham & George have moved to Woodman's block.

Todd & Royal are filling up with a fresh supply of groceries.

The highest steeple in Wichita is on the Methodist church.

Charles Schuttler starts this week for a visit to his parents in Kansas City.

Mr. Phillips, of the real estate firm of Martin, Phillips & Co., is off for a few weeks rest.

Topoka let one of her dead-head jill-birds go on a promise that he would emigrate to Wichita.

West & Mann have added to their stock of hardware and farming implements a large invoice of stoves and tinware.

A change may be noted in the figures of the capital of the First National bank of Wichita, as also a change in the directors.

The state normal school at Emporia has opened its fall term with one hundred and twenty-three students in attendance.

A little shooting affair occurred over on west side on Sunday afternoon, which resulted in a man receiving a slight flesh wound in the arm.

The state fair is going to prove a grand success, we should judge, from all we can hear. Many of our people will go up for a day or two.

A fire department will be organized in a few days. The apparatus for a hook and ladder company is on the road and may get here at any time.

Col. Sam. Wood, of Cottonwood Falls, and Col. H. T. Sumner, of Eldorado, will address the people of this city on Friday evening, at half past seven o'clock.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the board of county commissioners a new township has been organized in Sedgewick county and named "Greely."

West & Mann have made arrangements to put in a large stock of heating and cooking stoves. One of the firm is now making the necessary purchases.

A republican meeting will be held in Lincoln township tonight, which will be addressed by J. A. Stevenson, Judge Balderston, and others. A good time is expected.

We can count eight immense herds of cattle from our back window, waiting shipment. These cattle will all be gone before tomorrow night, and as many more will take their places.

Contractor West has just finished two school houses, one in district number 23, and one in district number 12. He has also under contract in our city six buildings, one of which is a flouring mill.

The district court has been in session now nearly two weeks, and business not all yet completed. Many of the suits have been of a civil nature in which have involved large sums of money.

Last Saturday the trade and business of Wichita must have been enormous. From an early hour until late at night Main street and Douglas avenue were crowded with people, teams and trains.

We have heard the name of Geo. Shilcher named in connection with the vacancy in the council made by the death of H. R. Lindsay. Mr. S. has the interests of the city at heart, and is a good business man.

Mr. Josiah Carpenter, from Frankfort Station, Illinois, a brother of the gentleman who was nominated for county commissioner last Saturday, is paying our valley a visit. Mr. C. is of the opinion that the sun shines upon no fairer country.

Mr. Wm. Groffstein, we are sorry to announce, has been quite unwell for several days back, most of the time confined to his house. Everybody upon the street has seen him, and his brisk business movements. We hope he will soon be around.

Geo. Laflin, government freighter to Fort Sill, arrived on Sunday with his train, consisting of some forty wagons, with six oxen of cattle each, attached. The wagons were partly loaded with dry hides. All is quiet in the Indian country around Fort Sill.

A young man, one of a party of emigrants, we believe, who was camped on the other side of the river, accidentally shot himself through the shoulder with a revolver, last Sunday. He suffered a good deal, but we judge the wound will not necessarily prove fatal.

We noticed thirty-two wagons of lumber, all in one string, going down street the other day, and all marked Cowley county fair, Winfield, bought of McClure & Co. Our friends at Winfield are making great exertions to have a large and successful county fair.

Oldham & George, merchant tailors, have moved their store and shop to the west side of Main street, adjoining Woodman & Son's bank, where they hold themselves in readiness to cut, fit and make, in the most approved and latest styles, all kinds of clothing.

Owing to lengthy communications, the county commissioners' proceedings and the proceedings of the county convention, our editorial, general news and local items are cut to the short this week. We might have added further that the editor-in-chief is also absent at the state fair.

Mrs. Henry Sherman will please accept our kindest thanks for a beautiful bouquet of bright flowers, which now adorn our sanctum. The receipt of such tokens is an assurance that the EAGLE is not an unwelcome visitor to some homes in this valley. Give us the sympathies of the mothers and true women and we will risk pleasing the rest of the world.

ATTENTION.—There will be a meeting of the members of the hook and ladder company at the office of Martin, Phillips & Co., on Saturday evening, Sept. 21st, at half past seven o'clock. As the apparatus is expected here next week, all of the members, and as many as would like to join, are requested to meet on this occasion. C. A. Phillips, Treasurer.

J. G. McCoy, who took such an active part in getting the cattle trade at Wichita this spring, paid our town another visit this week. He has been up through the corn-growing districts of Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska, and he says as soon as the weather becomes sufficiently cool, no danger may be apprehended from Spanish fever, that large numbers of buyers will visit this point from the districts named.

In another column will be found a call for a democratic county convention, which meets in Wichita on the 28th of September, to nominate county officers. It will be a delegate convention, composed of about the same number that the republican convention was. Now that our democratic brethren have no organ of their own, we will say here that the EAGLE will publish all their calls or announcements with the very best possible grace.

Because of the general dissatisfaction and complaint of our subscribers in the country in not receiving their papers promptly, we have concluded to publish the EAGLE one day earlier for the present. We never miss an issue, nor are we ever behind time, and what the trouble is we are unable to determine. For the present and until further notice, then, our paper will make its appearance every Thursday morning, instead of Friday, and advertisers and others will govern themselves accordingly.

Liberal and Democratic Convention.

While in Topeka, the delegates to the liberal republican and democratic conventions, from the counties comprising the 25th senatorial and 13th judicial districts, met together and organized themselves into a district executive committee, for the purpose of calling a convention in the district. Mr. T. McIntyre, of Cowley, was elected chairman, and J. E. Martin, of Wichita, secretary. The chairman and secretary were empowered to call a district convention, at such time and place as, in their judgment, might seem best. In accordance with the action of that meeting, the following call is issued:

"Good morning, Emma. Come in. Sit down. Well, I declare, you have a dress on just like mine. Where did you get it?"

"Oh, down at B's."

"How much did you pay a yard?"

"Sixty-five cents."

"Why, I only paid forty-five for mine. Bought it at Kohn Bros.' They have some of the nicest dress goods for winter, and so cheap. I am going down and buy me enough to make me three whole suits for winter. They are closing out, and such a rush for goods you never saw. Mr. Kohn says he is bound to sell out in thirty days, regardless of cost."

Special attention of the ladies is called to the fact that we will sell our nice patterns of winter dress goods, ladies' gloves, hosiery, trimmings, shawls, shoes, fancy notions, and everything pertaining to ladies' wear that we have never sold, for less than cost, for the next 30 days.
